Sonia Marsh Challenges You to Live a Gutsy Life

Sonia Marsh is a gutsy woman who, together with her husband and three sons, swapped a comfy, materialistic life in Orange County, California, to live a modern-day Swiss Family Robinson adventure on an island in Belize, Central America. That led to her memoir, Freeways to Flip-Flops: A Family's Year of Gutsy Living on a Tropical Island; the popular Gutsy Living blog; and a speaking career. Sonia now guides and motivates others to get out of their comfort zone, take a risk and pursue their gutsy dreams.

About *Freeways to Flip-Flops: A Family's Year of Gutsy Living on a Tropical Island

What do you do when life in sunny Southern California starts to seem plastic, materialistic and just plain hellish? For Sonia and Duke Marsh, the answer was to sell their worldly goods and move to an unspoiled, simpler life with their three sons in Belize, a third-world country in Central America, without all the comforts and distractions of life in the developed world.

Belize was not quite the paradise Sonia envisioned. But in the face of a growing number of challenges, members of the family grow closer and learn valuable lessons that help Sonia realize that paradise is not a place—it's a state of mind.

About *My Gutsy Story—Mini-Anthology (e-Book)

Sonia created the popular "My Gutsy Story" series, presently posted on her Gutsy Living blog and on Patch.com. The series celebrates inspiring and life-changing stories. The e-book chronicles 14 such stories. An expanded version with 50 tales is in the works, along with a live "My Gutsy Story" event.

Born to a Danish mother and an English father, Sonia speaks Danish, French and English. She credits her parents for teaching her to be an independent thinker and adventurer, and has tried to instill those qualities in her own children. Now that they're out of the house, Sonia revels in her ability to pack her suitcase in an hour and be off on her next Gutsy adventure.
